THREE BOYS DEAD IN BURNED CABIN

HIGH SCHOOL YOUTHS DIE IN SUMMER COTTAGE

WEEK-END CAMPING TRIP HAS TRAGIC CULMINATION

Two Escape Fire Which Razes Camp, Charred Remains of Three Others Recovered Several Hours After Fatal Blaze.

Santa Cruz.—Trapped by a fire while they slept in a summer cottage at Big trees, nine miles north of here, three high school youths were burned to death, another was seriously injured and a fifth barely escaped with his life early Sunday morning as the culmination of a week-end outing, which began Saturday morning.

The dead are: Billy De Laney, 20, 1800 block Clement street, San Francisco; Elmer St. John, 17, 2316 Allston way, Berkeley; John Dolan, 18, 2418 Dwight way, Berkeley.

The injured are: Louis Westcott, 18, 261 Dana street, Berkeley; Wesley Bonnett, 19, 2314 Haste street, Berkeley, painfully, though not seriously, burned while attempting to rescue his companions.

Awakened about 2:30 o'clock by the intense heat and the sound of a section of the roof as it gave away, Bonnett had only time to arouse Westcott, who was nearly overcome by the dense smoke. Wrapping their bodies in blankets as a protection against the flames, they rushed toward the door. Bonnett reached safety, but Westcott was painfully burned when he became confused in the dense smoke after lingering in an effort to arouse their three chums, who, apparently, were unconscious. Bonnett attempted to return to Westcott's aid, but was driven back by the intense heat.

Charred remains of the three youths were recovered several hours later. Cause of the fire is unknown, but it is believed to have been started when glowing coals rolled from the hearth of a fireplace, in which a fire had been built early in the evening.

POLICE RUM SCANDAL PROBE PROMISES SENSATION FOR S. F.

San Francisco.—A city-wide bootlegger graft scandal, disclosed by the account book alleged to have been written by Eddie Marron, former assemblyman, brought a spectacular explosion here with the result that seven men were in custody at the federal building, October 11, on felony charges of conspiring to violate the prohibition laws. These were, Policeman Patrick Kissane, Joseph Edward Marron, George Budsall, William Mahoney, Clem Haskins, James Hayes and Gus Scmmidke. The latter three are understood to be accused of connection with the bootlegging activities in the alleged Eddie Marron resort.

The date fixed for the hearings, October 17, is considered significant. All the evidence in the hands of the federal intelligence bureau agents and the police, which it is believed will reach gigantic proportions, will be presented to the federal grand jury when the body mmets on October 16.

Anatole France Passes On

Tours, France.—Anatole France is dead. His end came peacefully, October 12. From August, last, the state of the great French writer's health has caused anxiety. Gradually his condition became worse, until, owing to his advanced age, 80 years, there was no expectation of his recovery. Almost up to the end he retained his interest in those around him and was able at times to converse briefly.

DAWES PLAN IN EFFECT LOAN CONTRACT SIGNED

Endorsement of Financial Aid for Germany Officially Starts Debt Program—Americans on Commission of Execution.

Paris.—The Dawes plan for the payment of reparations by Germany, a settlement of the imbroglio which has kept Europe upset since the war, became virtually effective, October 10, when the Germans handed over to the reparation commission industrial railroad debentures totaling 16,000,000,000 gold marks and the commission approved the contract signed in London for the 800,000,000 gold mark loan to Germany.

The appointment of an American citizen, Thomas Nelson Perkins, of the Boston law firm of Roper, Gray, Boyden and Perkins, to act with the commission on the execution of the plan, completed the preliminaries.

Thomas W. Lamont, of the Morgan firm, who took a prominent part in the loan negotiations, has left for New York on the steamer Mauretania. Morgan will remain here for his annual vacation.

The Kriegisasten, or German war burdens commission, completed the series of operations necessary to make the plan effective when Dr. Meyer, on behalf of the German government, handed to M. Delacroix, Belgian member of the commission and commissioner for the railroad pledge, a bond for 11,000,000,000 gold marks.

As a bond on industrial installations in Germany for five billion gold marks is already in the possession of the reparations committee, these operations, with the nomination of the remaining members of some organisms, form the execution of the Dawes plan so far as the preliminaries are concerned.

The transfer committee, which will decide when the money paid on reparations by Germany can be transferred to the allies without upsetting German exchange, will be composed of Jean V. Parmentier for the French, Henry Bell for the British, Joseph Sterrett for the Americans, and Albert F. Janssen for the Belgians.

Chicago.—Clarence Darrow, attorney for Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb in the trial for killing Robert Franks, declared in an address here that, while the Eighteenth amendment never will be repealed, "it will die, because people of courage and independence will stand against it," and because it "cannot be enforced." His declaration that "all the presidents, mayors and public officials in the country can't enforce it" came after Mayor William E. Dever, who preceded him, asserted he had no apologies to make for his campaigns against liquor law violations, and was "willing to sacrifice my party and myself if I can attain for the community what I am aiming at."

The papers on file state that the radio corporation plans to build a sending station at Bolinas and a receiving station at Marshall. The new plants will cover this section of California.

PRESIDENT'S WIRE TO CALIFORNIA

The White House,

One of the most gratifying experiences that have marked my term of public service has been the privilege of knowing intimately of the spirit of support and co-operation which the former service men have displayed at all times toward the Government.

I feel perfectly confident that now when the Constitution is in danger, when the rights of the weak, of the individual, are proposed to be put in jeopardy by destroying the Supreme Court, when the property of the weak is in danger of confiscation by the same purpose, the service men will resist all such proposals. They have demonstrated in the years of peace the same high loyalty and devotion to their country that they gave in the years of war. To all who have been entrusted with the administration of public affairs, it has been an inspiration to know that they could be confident of ready and unqualified support from this important quarter.

So I send all good wishes for the Veterans of California, with the assurance that the American people and their Government are fully resolved to render every testimony of continued appreciation and gratitude for the services and sacrifices of those who defended their country in its time of most pressing necsessity.

CALVIN COOLIDGE.

ELECTION BET PROMISES SOME FUN

From time to time we hear of comical wagers being made, and, read with interest the stories of stunts done on wagers. Campbell is soon to enjoy a stunt on the streets as the result of an election bet. George Whitney has promised Herold Morton a first class, up-to-the-minute ride in a wheel chair from the business center of town to the Roosevelt Tree Service station and return if Senator La Follette does not carry California ahead of Coolidge. Herold Morton has accepted the wager on the opposite side. A wheelbarrow was suggested but George who feels confident of the ride, was afraid of accidents. Gene Whitney will furnish the wheel chair.

Reserve the date for this big parade, Nov. 5, at noon on Campbell avenue.

Motion to drop Muzzey's history of the United States from the list of school text books, because of its alleged British propaganda, was defeated by the vote of five to two by the state board of education. Merk of Burlingame, and Clarence Jarvis of Sacramento.

John J. McNamara, who served twelve years in San Quentin penitentiary for the dynamiting of the Llewellyn Iron Works at Los Angeles, and whose brother, James B. McNamara, is serving a life sentence for murder in connection with the wrecking of the Los Angeles Times building, killing twenty-one persons, in 1910, was arrested at Indianapolis on four specific indictments returned by the county grand jury charging blackmail.

GRANGERS ENJOY A SOCIAL SESSION

One new member was obligated in the first and second degrees of the Grange last Tuesday evening.

Miss Myrtle Arnott opened the lecturer's hour mith a piano solo, "Blue Bells of Scotland" to the enjoyment of all.

Miss Carmichel gave a short talk on the evening school urging all to encourage our foreign population to attend this school as it will be a great help to them and a benefit to the community.

Mrs. D. H. Cramer gave a very interesting description of their trip east the past summer by auto and camp outfit. At Eureka, Nevada, they could only find the foundation of the home where she once lived. The roads thru Nevada were not very good and they could make less than 100 miles some days, but farther east they struck good roads where they made over 300 miles a day. Iowa, with its wonderful crop of corn, and other grain and its cattle and hogs was a grand sight. In Michigan they met a great procession with an tuto "all dolled up" which they learned was the 10,000,000th Ford. At Niagara gasoline was 19 cents on the New York side and 39 cents in Canada. The wild black raspberry short cake they had in Wisconsin made our mouths water. Coming back through Montana and the Yellowstone Park they found the road fairly good. 230 miles from Cody to the Yellowstone Park was a wonderfully fine road. Mr. Cramer said they saw 15 bear in Yellowstone, so tame that they came up to the car to be fed. The guide told them that they went skating on the hot boiling pools in the winter when they are frozen over, but sometimes the ice broke through and they got their feet scalded.

Mr. Cramer then favored the grange with "Welcome Sweet Spring" and the "Stammering Song."

Mr. Cooley spoke on the approaching election, urging people to get out and vote.

Miss Mary Fablinger read an article favoring the Child Labor amendment to the U. S. constitution. The secretary read a letter from Past State Master Joseph Holmes opposing the same. Various members spoke pro and con on the proposed amendment. A motion to support the amendment was lost.

There was a large attendance and all enjoyed a social time after the close of the meeting.

The United States is using her war-time explosives for building roads and clearing lands. When the war closed she owned 100,000,000 pounds of T. N. T. and "pyrotol" explosive, whichc shse has been giving free to the states building highways and the settlers who need it to clear their land.

NUISANCE TAXES ENDED.

American women who recall the days when the purchase of a pair of stockings meant the paying of a 10 per cent "luxury" tax will probably recall that it was a Republican revenue measure that abolished the tax. It likewise abolished the tax on millinery, underwear, kimonos, petticoats, waists and other wearing apparel, as well as on the ice cream soda, beauty cream and candy.

Today neither a reducing corset nor a box of rouge is considered a luxury. Today the shopper may indulge in her hot chocolate fudge sundae without paying the government for the privilege.

Besides these so-called nuisance taxes, the Republican revenue bill repealed all taxes on musical instruments, sporting goods and household furniture. It repealed all taxes on life, fire, accident, burglar and other forms of insurance. It repealed the tax on railroad tickets, thus saving the traveling public a quarter of a million dollars a day.

In brief the Republican tax measure of 1921 lifted a burden from the pocketbooks of the American people which had been irritating them every day since the Democratic taxes had been enacted.

THEORY vs. FACT

Upon one thing, at least, all three candidates for the presidency agree. They desire world peace—like every one else in the world.

One candidate thinks we can achieve it by entering into a league of nations, a plan already repudiated at an election which the league's chief sponsor accepted at the time as a "solemn referendum."

The second candidate asks for peace, demands revision of the Versailles treaty, to which the United States is not a party, and insists on prompt payment of our foreign debts in one breath. La Follette proves that even a redical theorist need not be consistent in his theories, and that a pacifist may at times be militant.

The third candidate points to a record of actual performance. On August 11, 1921, President Harding invited the governments of Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan to participate in a conference on the limitation of armament. As a result of this conference, actual treaties were signed relating to:

1. The limitation of naval armament;
2. The use of submarines and poison gases;
3. Insular possessions and insular dominions in the region of the Pacific Ocean (the Four Power treaty);
4. Principles and policies in matters concerning China;
5. Chinese customs tariffs.

For the first time in history great naval powers voluntarily limited their great weapons of offense and made, as the secretary of the navy said, "a naval war of aggression an impossibility." It was the first tangible move toward universal peace.

The Republican party has taken the first real step toward world peace.

More About Chili Con Carne

MARK Twain old about his first experience with ch li down in Mexico, where everything is chili-flavored. He took one bite of chili con carne, Mexican style, and sprinted for the pump. But he eventually grew to like it, and said that he ever after longed for it and dreamed about it.

Ingram's American Chili Con Carne is called "American" because it's not so hot as the Mexican. It's a more moderate introduction to the same charming flavor. An ideal combination is chili con carne served with our delicious semolina macaroni or spaghetti. Or serve the c. c. c. with rice, or with Van Camp's hominy. You'll get a great kick out of it, as Mark would have said if that expressive term had been thought of in his day.

By the way, did you read that article in the Literary Digest on "The Crime of Monotony?'' Look it up. "Sameness depresses; variety stimulates. Eating the same food . . . one sinks into physical and mental stupor." The longer you delay trying Ingram's Chili Con Carne the more danger of sinking into that stupor. Invest 18 cents in a can today.

LITTLE THEATRE PLAYERS COMING

The program to be given at the Grammar School Auditorium, Saturday evening, November first, by the Boulevard Players of Oakland will consist of three one-act plays as follows: "The Temple Bell," "At the Door", and "Between the Soup and the Savory."

"The Temple Bell" is founded on an old Chinese legend, dating from the seventh century, and has been a favorite with Boulevard audiences. "At the Door" is one of Mr. Tuper's own compositions recently given at Asilomar. The delegation from Campbell that heard it pronounce it splendid. It is a play of strong plot and dramatic power. The third is one of the finest comedies in English, and has had long runs on the professional stage.

The cast includes students from the University of California and Mills College working under the direction of Wilbur S. Tupper. This is the sixth season of the Oakland Little Theatre and the work of the carefully trained players compares very favorably with that of profesionals, in fact it is often more sincere and convincing.

This year the players are making a circuit of neighboring towns, including Asilomar, Benicia, Alameda, Campbell, Oakland, and Antioch. Their performances are not for remuneration, but for the love of the work, and the desire to afford wholesome entertainment.

The High School Orchestra under the direction of Josef Halamicek will provide music by way of prelude and between the plays. The music and the varied character of the plays will make a choice to please all.

The program is sponsored jointly by the Congregational and Methodist churches. It is not primarily a money making proposition, for the price of admission will be only twenty-five cents. Oaklanders always pay at least double this amount for the same sort of program; but due to the size of the auditorium, it is desired to make the enerainment a community affair in which everyone may have a share.

No Power Shortage— A Great Achievement

WITH pride, this Company announces that the perplexing problems presented by the long drought have been solved.

There will be no shortage of power in P. G. and E. territory this year.

All demands for electricity have been met. An increased consumption of approximately twelve per cent has been supplied. Nor will rates be increased.

Behind this simple announcement lies the story of a titanic struggle by a loyal and efficient organization against appalling odds; a fight that was fought and won in silence for a public unaware that it was going on.

California's homes, industries and irrigation depend much on electric power. California uses more electricity per capita than any other state. In terms of wealth and comfort, therefore a shortage of electricity is a serious matter to us all.

Electricity in this state is made primarily by turning a wheel with falling water. Thus fuel is saved. Steam plants, much costlier to operate because they burn oil, are maintained as auxiliaries. So, a water shortage naturally implies a power shortage and higher rates.

For eight years rainfall in California has been below normal, and in 1923-24 the seasonal precipitation was only forty per cent of normal. Stored water in the principal reservoirs north of Tehachapi attained only fifty per cent of reservoir capacity.

When January passed with the drought unbroken the P. G. and E. tackled the problem of making sure of a continuous, adequate service. For weeks the Company's intrepid scouts tramped the remote Sierras on snowshoes measuring the depth and density of what snow there was. Before the Company's engineers was the spectre of the summer's peak demand: the haunting fear that a day would come when factories, mines, farms, railways, stores and homes would be pulling on the lines together and would fail to find enough "juice" for all.

"Conserve water, and bring up steam production; work the steam stand-bys day and night, and get new steam power wherever possible" was the order, to which was added: "Cut operating costs to the minimum in order to meet the increased expense for fuel oil."

By a myriad of ingenuities and new contrivances every drop of stored water has been made to do unprecedented duty in power-production. A great steam plant, costing a million dollars, authorized January 31st, was completed and in service June 16th, a month ahead of schedule. Industrial steam-plants like those of the California Hawaiian Sugar Refinery, Mare Island Navy Yard, Northwestern Pacific Railroad, and the Hercules Powder Company, and plants disused because power bought from the Company is cheaper, were leased by the P. G. and E., oiled, and set to making current. In January the Company had 27 hydro and 5 steam plants. In September it was operating 42 plants. Cost of oil consumed leaped up three million dollars, but rigid economy in other directions held down the increase in cost of power-production so that no increase in rates will be made.

Luck was not kinder than usual. At a critical time, 144 feet of the Stanislaus flume, perched on a trestle 40 feet high, went out, and the break, 15 miles from the base of supplies, shut down a plant of 50,000 horsepower. This flume is 6 feet deep and 9 feet wide, one of the greatest in America. Shifts of heroic toilers made the repairs in 62 hours although the job was estimated to take 96.

At steam plants boiler troubles occur. Repairs ordinarily mean a stop of three days for it takes 24 hours for the interior to cool. In a particular instance a boiler was repaired in 22 hours. Some one went into that torrid boiler and removed the heated brick lining. It was all in the day's work.

Other setbacks occurred such as the prevalence of forest fires, damaging power lines and flumes, but the Company has met the requirements of the public without requesting help or favor. When new consumers asked for service they got it without a murmur. The farmer, who needed more power than ever before, was not denied. No new industry failed to get energy. The twelve per cent increase in demand for power was supplied with a smile, although there were whiles when the engineers felt a palpitation of the heart every time a stout passenger boarded a streetcar on the system.

And now, Victory. The farmer's pumping is done. The strain relaxes. We will fight tomorrow's battles with tomorrow's strength; but rain or shine the mighty Pit No. 3 will come in next season and the Company has no fear of the year ahead.

Contributing to that victory, a victory of which the public get all the fruits, was, first, a devoted and efficient organization, comprising 11,600 employes, always on their toes, guided by initiative and foresight, ambitious to maintain the unfailing standards of Pacific Service.

Then the fact that the P. G. and E., one of the largest hydro-electric companies in the United States, serves a wide territory, drawing power from numerous sources, favored by a great diversity of demand. No single plant, serving one community, could have met the situation.

Finally, the spirit of cooperation among the power companies of California who, for the sake of the public service, fed one another from time to time with surplus power as the load here fell off, and the load there pressed harder, so that not a kilowatt of current went to waste.

When you think of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, picture a company with 11,600 employes and 30,000 owners, nearly all California—a company, serving the public faithfully and on the job in all seasons and at all hours.

SEEK HOMES FOR CHILDREN

Does anybody want a real, live American boy to do the chores and run errands in return for an education and the love of a daddy and mother?

The California Children's Home Society, 919 East 25th street, Los Angeles, has just notified this newspaper that at present it is overstocked with a crowd of manly, robust youngsters who are clamoring for homes. Some of them want to live in the country where they can tend the chickens and pigs and help with odd jobs. Others prefer the city. But all of them are anxious to make a connection with a family that will give them some of the advantages which other kiddies enjoy.

Within the past year the society admitted 351 babies and boys and girls to its receiving homes at Los Angeles and Oakland. In the same period 216 of these homeless children were adopted by as many families in California. The largest number of adoptions was reported from Los Angeles county where 111 children are now in foster homes. Alameda county was second with 24 adoptions and Orange county was third with 12.

The children under care of the society have come from all walks and conditions of life. Illegitimacy led to 163 commitments to the organization. Abandoned and deserted children numbered 77 and other causes were listed as follows. separation of parents, orphans, half-orphans, unable to provide, bigamy, cruelty, unfit parents and incompetency.

Every child in either of the two receiving homes is put in training during his stay there. He is taught to do household work, make up his bed, care for his personal clothing and cleanliness and to become as useful as possible. At the same time he is watched in his studies so that he may go forward in his education.

The adoption of a boy or girl or baby is effected only after a careful investigation of the home by representatives of the society. Such an investigation is made to determine the suitability of the home for the child and the child for the home. In past years the percentage of children returned to the society after their placement has been reduced to a negligible few.

The Children's Home Society maintains receiving homes at 919 East 25th street, Los Angeles, and at 3491 Sixty-sixth avenue, Oakland. Representatives of the organization will gladly discuss the placement of children with callers or will send one of their workers to any home upon request.

HOW DO THEY GET THAT WAY?

The Democratic platform brands the Fordney-McCumber tariff as "the most unjust, unscientific and dishonest tariff measure ever enacted in our history."

But—

Under the operation of this tariff measure 5,000,000 unemployed workers have found work at the highest level of wages ever known; our exports increased more than $1,500,000,000; and our duties from imports have added some $1,100,000,000 to our national Treasury.

When the Bryan Brothers get to explaining that Democratic tariff plank they will have to avoi dfacts, for there are many more to add to the above. For instance, me have sold in two years $3,000,000,000 worth of manufactured goods abroad. Whom have we cheated? Whom have we deceived? None. The tariff has helped and is helping every man, woman and child, except the pawnbroker, in the United States.
